Intelligent Technology

Information is power.

We invest heavily in technology to give our attorneys the edge and to ensure you can reach us when you need us. We are a high-tech office and scanned copies of all papers in our files are kept in duplicate electronic form. We can instantly access all necessary case or matter information at any hour of the day, from anywhere in the world. In the event of a catastrophic hurricane, our electronic, duplicate database ensures all client documents and attorney work product are protected and preserved.

Accessibility is power.

We are accessible everyday, all day, whether it is in our offices, on our cell phones, blackberries or via Email. We frequently respond to client emergencies worldwide on a moment's notice and utilize mobile technology to transmit critical time-sensitive information from the scene.

Our accessibility and information technology further defines the excellence that is Maltzman Foreman.
